viennacontemporary

For the fifth consecutive year, viennacontemporary takes place at Marx Halle, centrally located in the Neu Marx area in Vienna's 3rd district. Built at the end of the 19th century by famous architect Rudolf Frey, Marx Halle was the first building in Vienna to have a wrought iron structure. Once a popular local cattle market, the newly renovated industrial style building nowadays serves as a spectacular venue for large-scale events, concerts, and fairs.

The hall, with its impressive steel structure measuring 175 meters in length and covering an area of 20.000 square meters, provides extensive exhibition space including booths, special projects, a VIP Lounge, a restaurant, and bars for refreshments. Its light architecture and industrial flair create a unique atmosphere for the presentation of contemporary art, transforming the historical halls into a captivating and focused art discovery experience for its visitors and exhibitors.

Accessibility

Located in the central, newly renovated Neu Marx Business district, the hall is in great proximity of and very well connected to the city center and Vienna International Airport. It is easily accessible via public transport and car, and within walking distance of all services and accommodation needed, such as hotels, restaurants, shops, and leisure facilities. The historical city center with its sights, museums, and cultural institutions is only a few underground stops away.
