2020

Every year in September, Vienna becomes the center of attention of the international art crowd: viennacontemporary, like no other art fair, bridges the global East and the West, gathering a unique selection of exciting discoveries, established galleries, and thoughtfully curated sections in the light-flooded halls of the historic Marx-Halle.

In 2020, viennacontemporary will take place from 24–27 September. The “fair for explorers“ puts the spotlight on Central- and Eastern Europe and has become an important exchange and market place for collectors, art professionals, and other guests from all over the world.

More than 29,000 visitors attended last year’s edition that featured 115 galleries and institutions from 26 countries. With the curated sections ZONE1 and Explorations, and the special exhibition “Focus: NSK State in Time”, composed by the “Neue Slowenische Kunst“ movement (NSK), that questioned if art has to be represented in the realm of a nation-state, viennacontemporary was once more able to offer a rich and relevant program. Evolved from Cinema, the new format “Video: Falling Awake” featured a series of video works from upcoming artists examining the contemporary condition – sleepless, aware, in constant tension between technological development, individuality, loss, desire, and mediatic presence. Expert talks, guided tours, and a Kids program for our youngest guests completed the fair’s diverse offering.

For the sixth time, viennacontemporary will take place at the Viennese Marx-Halle. With its high ceilings and 19th century–steel structure, the newly renovated industrial-style building is a perfect venue for presenting contemporary art. It’s not without reason that viennacontemporary is said to be one of Europe’s most beautiful art fairs.

We look forward to welcoming you to the 2020 edition of viennacontemporary.

Location

2020

For the sixth consecutive year, viennacontemporary takes place at Marx Halle, centrally located in the Neu Marx area in Vienna's 3rd district. Built in the end of the 19th century by famous architect Rudolf Frey, Marx Halle was the first building in Vienna to have a wrought iron structure. Once a popular local cattle market, the newly renovated industrial style building nowadays serves as a spectacular venue for large-scale events, concerts, and fairs.

The hall, with its impressive steel structure measuring 175 meters in length and covering an area of 20.000 square meters, provides extensive exhibition space including booths, special projects, a VIP lounge, a restaurant, and bars for refreshments. Its light architecture and industrial flair create a unique atmosphere for the presentation of contemporary art, transforming the historical halls into a captivating and focused art discovery experience for its visitors and exhibitors.

Accessibility

Located in the central, newly renovated Neu Marx Business district, the hall is in great proximity of and very well connected to the city center and Vienna International Airport. It is easily accessible via public transport and car, and within walking distance of all services and accommodation needed, such as hotels, restaurants, shops, and leisure facilities. The historical city center with its sights, museums, and cultural institutions is only a few underground stops away.
